Day 5: Genuine Compliment to Female Clerks

The Aim of this Challenge

Now it's time to get you out of your comfort zone a little bit more, my social friend.

In today's challenge, you'll learn one of the best skills that will help you create better connections and of course attract more women.

I'm talking about giving authentic compliments.

We'll start with something easy by complimenting female workers rather than doing this on complete strangers.

That's something we'll do in more advanced challenges. If you're enjoying this 5-day challenge and want to grow more in your dating skills, read until the end to learn how you can join my inner circle program.

Challenge Requirements

1. A list of 5 shops in your city;
2. Hand-ready compliment lines.

Challenge Goal

Go to 5 female workers and, after you ask them a plausible question related to their job, give them an honest compliment.

Challenge Briefing

At The Pharmacy

Let's say you find yourself in a pharmacy shop. And you see a beautiful woman at the desk. You start by making your order, as in a normal situation;

—You: "I'll take a vitamin D supplement, thanks."

—Female Clerk: "Sure."

Then you drop your compliment:

—You: "You know, I really like your ring."

—Her: "Oh, thank you!"

—You: "You're welcome."

And you go away, first challenge done. Another example in a clothing shop now.

At The Clothing Shop

In a clothing shop, you're looking for some nice clothes for you as you want to change your outfit. You go to the hot female clerk and say;

—Your question: "I want to change my outfit into something more stylish. What do you have?"

—Hot Female Clerk: "We have this, and this, and that."

—You: "Hey I like how your trousers fit on you. They make you look really attractive."

Attraction Truth

If that's hard to say for you, you can smooth it out by simply saying “Hey I like how your trousers fit on you.”

If you're determined to improve, I can provide you support and expert tips in our 1-1 confidence session if you want to discover new ways of socializing with girls.

At The Grocery Store

You go to the grocery store to buy something, and you see that the cashier has a t-shirt with written “Believe in Yourself”. You take the opportunity and you say:

— You: “Hey nice shirt. Are you into personal growth?!”

— Her: “Hey! Not really but I liked the writing 😊”

— You: “Nice! Love that you're spreading positive energy.”

— Her: “Thanks 😊”

And then you bang her on the black conveyor belt... Just Kidding.

I already gave you some ideas, however I want you to find your own so that you start getting more creative in social scenarios.

💡 Challenge Tips

Tip#1: Don't give compliments related to their personality as you don't really know them (unless you're pretty intuitive). The praise will sound more congruent if you do it about something you can immediately notice about girls.

Tip #2: Observe a lot. Sometimes the best compliments will come after you look carefully at the girl's hands, jewelry, nail polish, makeup, clothing, or hair. You must train your observational skills, and if you see something to comment about, drop your line.

Tip #3: Always be genuine; otherwise, you'll sound fake (and women can tell when a man lies). Also, think about some compliments in advance so that you won't find yourself unprepared.

Comments/Observations:

A romantic couple is shown in silhouette, embracing and kissing on a beach. The scene is set against a warm, golden sunset sky, with the ocean waves visible in the background. The couple is standing in the shallow water, and their reflections are visible on the wet sand.
